DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-10, 14, drawn to a composition.

Group II, claim(s) 11-13, 15, drawn to a method of using the composition.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the cited prior art shows that there is no special technical feature.

During a telephone conversation with Shelly Cermak on 9/26/2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-10, 14.

Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action.

Claims 11-13, 15 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37

CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10, 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 355157517 (abstract), JP 405004929 (abstract) or JP 411285349 (abstract).

All three references each teach that Shiitake mushroom is extracted with an aqueous solution. The product yielded has the claimed characteristics since these characteristics are inherent to the claimed composition. Since shiitake mushrooms are used in the references as they are in the claims, the same product will be yielded in the references as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10, 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 355157517 (abstract), JP 405004929 (abstract) or JP 411285349 (abstract) taken with JP 01067194 and JP 72037612.

JP '194 teaches that alcohol precipitation is a well known extraction technique of mushrooms, see abstract.

JP '612 teaches that decomposition yields components from shiitake mushrooms, see abstract.

In the event that alcohol precipitation changes the properties of the composition yielded from the mushroom (which the examiner does not think is the case), then it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to use alcohol precipitation to extract the shiitake mushroom of the primary references since it was well known in the art at the time the invention was made to perform such an extraction technique with beneficial results. Since decomposition of the shiitake is inevitable, it would have been inherent to the mushroom itself, but JP '612 is cited to show that such decomposition does help to extract components from the mushroom.
